

Data Tip: Reporting Transitional Kindergarten Students in the CRDC

Transitional kindergarten programs vary in structure and eligibility across school districts. Typically these programs offer children close to the cut-off age for kindergarten the option to complete kindergarten over an expanded period of time before proceeding to first grade.

The CRDC reporting of students in a transitional kindergarten program is determined by the content and instruction standards for the program.

